MRS. A. N. McLENNON AND Mrs. Walter Lanford were hostesses Friday afternoon at an enjoyable meeting of the Bisbee Woman's Club at the clubhouse on Quality Hill. Following a business meeting, Miss Dorothy Phillips, art supervisor in the local schools, gave an interesting talk on art and the appreciation of art.

The next meeting of the club will be held January 27 and the program will include a play reading by members of the Civic Players.

TUESDAY WILL BE THE LAST Ladies' Day at the country club at which Mrs. P. M. Buckwalter will act as hostess. A large number of members and their friends are planning to drop in for tea. Mrs. Buckwalter has been chairman of the Ladies' Day committee for the past year and, it is expected, a new hostess for the year will be selected Tuesday.

In spite of more or less dull times during the last year, Mrs. Buckwalter and other members of the committee have made the Tuesdays at the country club very delightful and most successful.

A "COMMUNITY EVENING" WAS enjoyed by a big crowd at the Baptist church Wednesday evening. Other similar entertainments will be staged each month. The following program was given Wednesday evening under the direction of Miss Myrtle Ewing: Piano Solo, Dorothy Cooper; Reading, Mrs. Tibbets; Vocal Solo, Mr. Gilbert; Reading, Mrs. Simcoe; Vocal Duet, Mrs. Garnett and Mrs. Ranney; Reading, Mr. Garnett; Reading, Jeanette Hampton; Solo, Mr. Madderu; Reading, Ruth Gould; Dialogue, "Fast Friends," Laura Latimer, Sylvia Ferron, Mabel Hamilton and Bonnie Grant; Piano Solo, Frances Patton and Reading by Myrtle Ewing.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE marriage of Roy S. McLeod and Miss

Florence Buckett at Santa Ana, Calif., on Nov. 25th, came as a complete surprise to their many friends in the Warren District. Both were very popular here. Miss Buckett taught in the schools here for several terms and Mr. McLeod was employed by the C. & A. Mining Co. Mr. McLeod is now in business in Los Angeles and they are residing at 1289 W. Adams St., Los Angeles.

THE CIVICS AND EDUCATIONAL departments of the 20th Century Club met Tuesday afternoon and had the pleasure of listening to Miss Ella Bates, school nurse, discuss the best diet for children. Mrs. Bates gave two solos and little Miss Lucile Brian sang a solo. The regular social afternoon will be next Tuesday afternoon. The ladies wish to announce "A Trip to El Paso," will be given all ladies present, the "Special" leaving at 2 o'clock sharp. All club women of the district are invited.

THE OFFICERS AND LADIES OF the First Cavalry, Camp Harry J. Jones, are giving a dance and reception January 17, at the Douglas Country Club, honoring Col. and Miss Anderson. All members of the Warren District Country Club are requested to be present.

THE LADIES' AUXILIARY OF the First Church of Warren will meet Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. M. G. Addler, on Campbell street.

THE FIRST MEETING OF THE Warren Nutrition Class was held in the kindergarten room at Greenway school on Jan. 12, at 4 in the afternoon. Six parents and 23 children were present. They all were interested and agreed to carry out the nutrition program. The meetings will continue each week on Thursday at 4 p. m. Much of the success depends upon the interest of the mothers and those who are organizing the classes are looking forward to have them present. A similar class will be started in Bisbee on Tuesday, Jan. 17, in the kindergarten room at Central school at 4 p. m. All parents and children interested are cordially invited to join.

TOMBSTONE

Mrs. Dave Struthers has gone to Tombstone to spend several days with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Baker are recent arrivals in Tombstone from Los Angeles and will remain here indefinitely. Mrs. Baker is a daughter of Frank Engle, Tombstone pioneer.

Miss Dorothea Lowe, sister of Mrs. Robert Reeves, has arrived in Tombstone from her home at Salida, Colo., and will spend the winter here the guest of her sister.

Mary M. Costello and daughter Miss Ruth, have moved into their home one door north of the Catholic church on Sixth street. It had just been completely renovated before their occupancy.

Mrs. Allie Choate, formerly a resident of Tombstone, but now residing in California, is visiting in Tombstone for several days, having arrived from Elgin where she has been visiting relatives.

INTEREST LAGS IN SECOND CASE AGAINST FATTY

Testimony Not Expected to Start Until Tuesday as Jury Still Incomplete

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—Inability of opposing counsel to complete the jury today in the second manslaughter trial of Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle, led to the belief that testimony would not begin until Tuesday. Defense attorneys expressed the opinion that this trial would take at least as long as the first one, which occupied three weeks.

The jury box has been filled six times since the case was called last Wednesday, but the use of six peremptory challenges has lengthened the process of selection. Eleven temporary jurors were in the box at adjournment today, and examination of a twelfth virtually was completed.

The crowds which waited in front of the Hall of Justice the first few days to see the principals come and go are no longer to be seen. According to court attaches, the case is attracting less public interest than the ordinary criminal trial.

The only outstanding incident today was a request by the court to the jurors temporarily in the box and to the veniremen waiting examination, that if anyone approached them "from either side," the court be notified at once. The court also announced it was prepared to order the jurors "into custody at any time" to prevent their being approached. No explanation of the remarks was extended.

lead a millionaire's life," says Patrick. "Let me tell you there's a lot of satisfaction in doing a day's work and doing it well."

"I think I may stay a fiver—and again it may not be a fiver."

"My house needs painting and I may use part of the $10,000,000 to do that."

"My wife's been ailing a bit and I may take a vacation on her account, but it won't be for long."

And Irene, Canning's 21-year-old daughter—does she want to marry a title?

Daughters Contented

No, she's going to keep on sorting shoe soles!

"I'm quite contented as things are," she says, "and I don't see any reason for quitting work. Maybe I'll get married but I don't care anything about making what they call a brilliant catch."

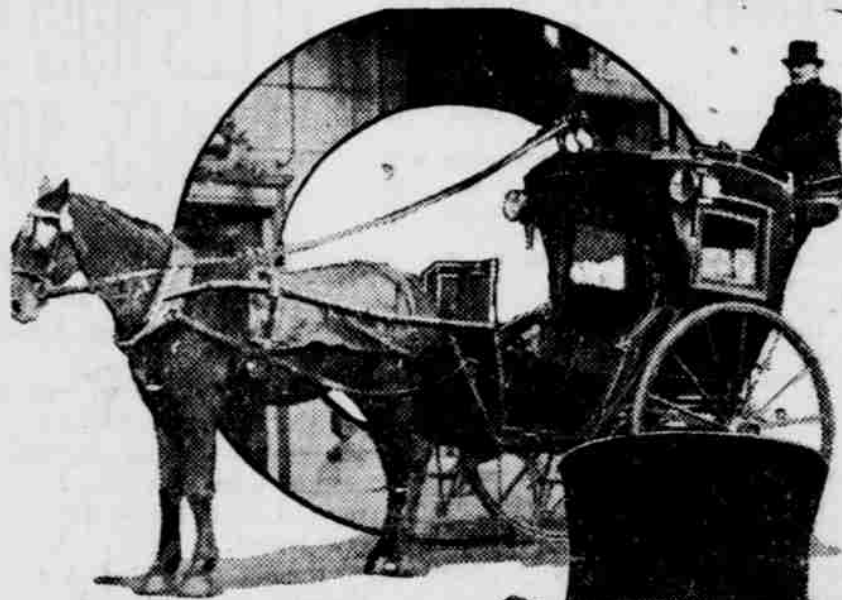

Canning's two other daughters—Bertha, 8, and Gertrude, 10—will continue their studies in the Haverhill public school.

James Canning, Patrick's brother and co-heir to the fortune, shares Patrick's ideas.

"I'm too old to change my way of living," he says. "Of course, I may play pool a bit in the afternoon and take on the movies of an evening and I'll give my children anything they want."

"But they don't want much. My

'HANSOM DAN' STILL RIDES IN HIS OLD HANSOM; SAYS SPEED OF AUTOS IS TOO MUCH FOR HIM

HANSOM DAN ARCHIE AND HIS CAB.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Habitués of upper Fifth Avenue call him "Hansom Dan."

"And don't ever believe," says the gentleman in question, "that it's because I'm a Beau Brummel."

This all concerns Dan Archie, who is the "Old-Timer" himself when it comes to driving cabs. "Hansom, sir?" He's called it a million times. "Auto cabs? No siree! If you chatter about crank shafts, spark plugs or gear shifts, you are not talking in Dan's language at all. But mention curry combs, axle grease and shay shafts and Dan will be all ears."

Too Fast For Dan

"I've never ridden in an auto," says Dan. "I don't like their smell. And the speed of them is enough to take your breath away."

Dan is 61 years old. For 40 years he has driven his hansom cab about the streets of New York. Today thousands of automobiles pass his stand, including the taxis that have taken from him much of his business. But he still clings to the cab.

"I'm thinking it's not alone the way of transportation has changed," Dan philosophized. "The people are not the same. Today they are always in a hurry."

"The young fellows don't take to the cab. It's speed they want."

Old-Timers Stay

"It's mostly the old-timers that ride with me. Once in a while some young fellow wants to give his girl a ride in a cab to show her how it feels to go so slow."

"But it's too slow for the lassies. They must hurry, and they have to take in some show or dance that sets

"The pace they go may be all right for some, but not for old Dan. I'll stick to the old horse and cab until my time comes."

May Avert Strike in South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Jan. 14.—(By the Associated Press.)

The Federation of Workers, some of whose members are on strike in the coal and gold mines of the Transvaal, today agreed to meet representatives of the mine owners to discuss a means of ending the strike. Suggestion for such a conference was made by the government.

Meanwhile, carrying out the announcement of the Federation of Workers that all essential service would be stopped today, the essential service men quit work at the time set. Their tasks were taken over by mining officials, under government protection.

MENOCAL REACHES U. S.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Mario Menocal, former president of Cuba, arrived today from Paris to visit several months in the United States. Since last March, he has been touring in Europe.

Women Urged Not to Attempt New Political Party

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—John T. Adams, chairman of the Republican national committee, in an address before the Woman's National Republican club, urged the women to join either of the two great political parties and not identify themselves with independent movements.

"There is about as much logic in women forming a political group," he said, "as there would be in having the green-eyed, or the red-haired, or the bald-headed people set themselves aside as a political body. Fewer misfortunes could befall our country in these trying times than to have our civil energies frittered away in contests between groups, factions, occupational interests or social divisions."

Whom Does Advertising Pay?

The answer is simple: both the reader and the advertiser.

The hundred and one things enjoyed by the public today never would have been available for its comfort at reasonable prices had not Advertising made it possible.

Advertising makes business and business makes the world go round. It pays everybody.
